

A most melancholy and fatal accident occurred at Deep Stream on Monday last. Mrs Sarah Codling, the wife of the proprietor of the Deep Stream Hotel, and a lady much respected in the district, was driving some fowls towards the house when she slipped into the river. Every attempt was made to rescue her, but in vain, and when the body was recovered life was extinct.

[Otago Witness Issue 884, 7 November 1868, page 13]